

RD8000/8100 SERIES

LEARNING OUTCOMES FROM THIS COURSE:

Our RD8000/8100 course focuses on developing the practical skills as well as theoretical understanding of how to use the precision locator

This includes reference to HSG47 and how data capture can be used to improve practice in this area.

Practical focus

This course has been designed so that a majority of the course can be delivered practically.

Consistent interaction

This course is designed to include consistent opportunities for learners to engage and interact.

This will make the course both more enjoyable and more impactful for those attending.

Data use

This course gives people the opportunity to begin to develop an understanding regarding data capture from locating devices.

What people say...

"The knowledge that was taught, really gave me a better understanding of all aspects of the locator, I now feel more confident, using them with different techniques"
